

A large, stylized red text '2026' is overlaid on a map of North America. The '2' covers the western coast of the continent, the '0' covers the central United States and the Great Lakes area, the '2' covers the eastern coast of the continent, and the '6' covers the southern United States and Mexico. The map features a light blue color scheme with various patterns and labels, including '15' and '20' in the upper right corner.
